We also have an internal exchange for trading the native VMT token. At the same time, the exchange can be expanded to other pairs.

Through expanding the paid and free user base.

At the point when we have 20,000 users per day, we expect to have a company income of $2,000,000 per month.

Our wallet works on the principle of a network-isolated device, the same concept is used to store secret documents in governments, the military and large corporations.

90% of crypto wallets store private keys on their servers and you depend on them. With us, you store the private key on your device.

Even if you store the private key on your device, it is better to have the option of not connecting that device to the Internet. We have the ability to sign transactions offline.

We are not only a wallet, we are an entire infrastructure ecosystem serving crypto world. We don't dig for gold, we sell shovels.

We have hot wallets, cold wallets, USB wallets, and wallets with an offline signature. We have all.
